THE ARMY BILL IN PERIL.

REICHSTAG LIKELY TO STAND BY ITS COMMITTEE.

BELIEF THAT THE EMPEROR WILL DISSOLVE PARLIAMENT BEFORE THE END OF APRIL-THE CHANCELLOR'S RE-

PLY TO HERR BENNIGSEN. Berlin, March 18 .- Before the final vote of the Army Bill Committee left the Government face to face with definitely hostile majority. Chancellor von Caprivi had conferences with Herren Huehne, Rickert, Bensented on the Committee. The negotiations left the Government and the committee more hostile than ever toward each other. Only the Conservative and Free Conservative members of the committee supported the The Chancellor gave as resolute a rejection to Herr Bennigsen's compremise proposals, though they largely conceded the Government's demands, as he gave to the proposal of Herr Lieber, which conceded nothing. Herr Lieber's proposal, about which much mystery has been maintained, showed that the Centre party had no desire to treat further with the Governnent. His proposal was practically the submission of a new bill providing for the maintenance of th present peace effective, with a reduced term of service, the Government having the option in the event of emergencies to retain in active service the men who had served their term. The report of the committee will be submitted to the Reichstag after Easter. Every indication now points to the Reichstag supporting the committee. The determined attitude of the Chancellor prove that Emperor William has resolved to take an extreme It is now expected that the Relebsing will be solved at the end of April. The closing speeches in the committee had a pronounced election character, being less directed to criticism of the bill than to tincks upon the Government. Herr Richter declared that the rejection of Herr Bennigsen's compromise was proof that there was no possibility of dealing with a Government beland which was an imperious will.

All the parties, he said, might now combine in defence enstitutionalism against absolutism.

celler von Caprivi as precluding all hope of an arrangement, and assuming the certainty of shipwreck to the bill. He declared that the obstinacy of the would precipitate a general election. Were the Ministers aware, he asked, of what dissolution implied? It would bring about the wildest scenes of political confusion, and would cause disorders serio unknown to the German electors. Herr Bensen warned the Government tha chance to rally the country to their side.

Chancellor von Caprivi rightly characterized the Centrist proposals as the negation of the object of the bill. Herr Bennigsen's proposal he rejected on the pound that the Federal Governmen's must adhere the complete scheme of organization submitted to the Reichstag. The Chancellor held that the reiter ated appeal to the Government to consider the burdens upon the empire was insulting, and he declined to reply to Herr Bennigsen's predictions about the of the committee's refusal to pass the bill. Finally, the Chancelly: tried to defend the action of sented Herr Richter's remarks about absolutism, and nuggésted that he might yet obtain the support of the National Liberals. Nothing, however, seems to justify this suggest tion, unless the Government's policy is modified. The National Liberals would be in opposition at a general election, and Herr Bennigsen, who is now Provisional President of Hanover, would have to resign his post. But the question is, is dissolution inevi table? The Emperer must first obtain the assent of the Bundesrath, or Federal Council, the Bavarian and faxon members of which are known to be absolutely bostile to an appeal to the country, preferring the withdrawal of the Army bill. If the Bundesrath refuses the Emperor's demand for the dissolution of the Reichstag, Chancellor von Caprivi must resign. discoution occurs the outlook for all the parties perplexing. Herr von Kleist Retzow at yesterday meeting of the committee promised the Governmente united support of the Conservatives. He spot with too much confidence. Herren Mirkach, Man tended and other prominent Conservatives are alreatening to desert the Government unless the Charcellor's commercial treaty policy is abandoned.

THE EMPEROR'S COMING VISIT TO ITALY. Owing to the political crisis, Chancellor von Capris Ill not accompany Emperor William on his visit to Rome, where the Emperor will take part in the eration of King Humbert's silver wedding. The Imperial party will teave Berlin on April 17. They will remain the guests of King Humbert at the Quirial for a week, and from Rome will go to Naples. The Pope will give Emperor William, on his return from Naples, an audience. On the way home the Imperial family will visit Queen Victoria, who will then be at Florence.

URGING AN STALO-GERMAN ALLIANCE. "National Zeitung" reproduces a singula Germany to rupture her alliance with Austr in Italy, thus leaving her free to develop the advities that are now hampered by the Austrian lance. The "National Zeitung" and other papers that the proposal to form an Italo-German lance obviously directed against the Holy See is many a chimera.

TAIBER TO ATTEND AUSTRIAN MANGEUVRES Emperor William will attend the manoeuvres of Austrian army at Szymbauhely. The the same time be a guest of Emperor Francis

ANOTHER DYNAMITE BOMB IN ROME. THIS TIME AT THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE POPE'S GUARDS-A SHARP WATCH ON ANARCHISTS.

Rome, March 18.- Following close upon the unst cessful attempt to blow up the Ancini Mattel Palace the residence of William Potter, the American Minister to Italy, another dynamite cutrare was attempted to day at the Palazzo Aitieri, the headquatters of the Guardia Nobili, one of the military organizations who duty it is to attend the Pope and to be present at great religious coronnes at the Vatlean.

Fatly this morning a boy who was passing the Palazzo Altieri saw a mass of what he at first though was mortar lying upon the steps of the pulace. He can up the sters and saw a burning fuse extending from the mass. The boy at once stamped out the fuse and then informed the police. Gendarmes were at once sent to the palace, and were not long ascertaining that what the boy had at first mistale for a mass of mortar was a powerful bomb, containing dynamite or some other high explosive. The ho was encased in a thick conting of plaster of pawhich, in the opinion of experts, would have added to the destruction that would have been wrough and an explosion occurred.

The news of the attempted outrage has caused con siderable excitement in this city. A number of arrests of Anarchists have been made recently, and this haapparently enused the friends of the men arrested o attempt these outrages as a means of revenge.

It has become known since the affair of yesterday at the Ancini Mattel Pulace that the police have been warned from some unknown source that at been warned from some unanown sociocic to at a tempts would be made to cause explosions in various pairs of the city. Notwith-standing this warning, the mistreauts who planned this adair had no trouble in placing their nomb on the steps of the Pairzia Attacii, which is one of the best known building. Attent, which is one of the best known bubbing in the city. Orders have now been issued, however, for a strict watch to be kept on all suspicious characters, and the police hope soon to have the conspirators in custody. Another warning was received to-day that further attempts would be made to cause explosions.

FINANCES OF THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

London, March 18 .- Leading financial weekly publications and most of the daily newspapers make no mention of the report that the Buenos Ayres water works question has been settled by an issue of Gov. ernment bonds. "The Standard" and "The Daily News" are the only newspapers that refer to the water-works rumor, and they say that it is premature. The rise in Argentine securities vesterday was only 1-4 per cent, and it is attributed to reports of a settlement between the Argentine National Government and the railways.

TWO ITALIAN WORKMEN AT WHITE PLAINS TORN TO PIECES.

A terrific explosion of what is supposed to be dynamite in a blacksmith shop on the property of the North End Land improvement Company at Scarsdale. about 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, resulting in the alling of Joseph Bartildno and John Nicholas, two Italian workmen.
